

Green Rally

Sunday, April 26th, 2009

Event Planner: Pete, Mr. Confucious
Master of Ceremonies at Run's End: John

Update: There are actually TWO (2) runs for today's ride:

1. The first is the Poker Run ~ the Green Rally (detailed below)
2. The second is for those that who just want to do the run and meet the rally participants for lunch (same surprise destination). Cornel will be leading the same run but without the rally activities included. (A little less confusing with the same roads and scenery).

Green Rally: The ride is approximately 200km of fine urban roads. It's sort of a poker run, but very different. Open to only the first 20, or 25, registered participants. Contact Pete directly to register.

Guaranteed to be a very confusing, but fun-filled day. Here's some hints retrieved from the various e-mails sent out by Pete.

Course was pre-run twice with two different navigators... After doing so, Mr. Confucious has had to mad a slight change... made the run easier ... So be it.

Cost is $5 per car ~ cash prize for 1st place; however, many other prizes claimed by way of raffle tickets received throughout the rally, or if you didn't get any during the scheduled pit stops, you can apparently buy them.

Should be an interesting run, let's hope for some good weather. Hint: Re-read your e-mails for all the clues needed to survive the run! Might even have to read between the lines!

Meeting Place: Both runs will meet at the Shell Station at Island Highway and Spencer Road (Langford).

1. Green Rally: Please arrive at 9:30a - 9:45a for a departure at 10:00am
2. Cornel Leading the Ride: Please arrive at 10:30am for a 11:00am departure. Participants for this ride, can purchase $1 raffle tickles for door prizes. Don't forget to get them at the start of the run!
